Notes on determination of handicaps:

At the start of the match enter player names and rankings in the table at the top of the score sheet.

Singles: Determine the handicaps of each player of the home side relative to each player of the away side from their ranking differences, using the accompanying Ranking Difference/Handicap table. Enter the number obtained in the appropriate handicap column for each set. (See example below)

Doubles: The ranking number for each pair is the average of the individual rankings of the players in the pair i.e. the sum of the rankings divided by 2. If this number is not a whole number the 1/2 point shall be ignored. The handicap is then determined from the Ranking Difference/Handicap table in the same way as the Singles.

Example: Home Player 3 (ranked 6) vs Away Player 2 (ranked 70)

Ranking difference = 64

From the table, this gives Away Player 2 (the lower ranked player) a handicap of 22 relative to Home Player 3 over the set of three games. This number should be entered in the handicap column for the Away team for that set.

N.B.: Each set is of three games only and each game ends when one side reaches 11 points.
